Election Financing

“The public’s right to know of the financing of political campaigns... far outweighs any right that these matters remain secret or private.”

Update to 2006 Election Financing Fact Book

On August 28, 2008, the Washington State Republican Party (WSRP) was found in violation of campaign disclosure laws for not timely notifying recipients of in-kind contributions made in 2004 and 2006 totaling $304,098: in-kind contributions of $92,533 to a 2004 candidate and in-kind contributions totaling $211,575 to 13 candidates in 2006. The WSRP stipulated to a $15,000 penalty payable within 60 days.

The WSRP did not deliver a copy of the special reports to the 13 legislative candidates, notifying the campaigns of the in-kind contributions. The special reports were required to be delivered to the campaigns within 24 hours of making the in-kind contributions.

Within 21 days of the 2006 general election, the WSRP provided in-kind contributions totaling $211,574.74 in support of the following 13 legislative candidates:

1. Bob Lawrence - $27,937.48
2. Charles Ross - $4,428.87
3. Donna Watts - $1,420.00
4. Jan Shabro - $20,803.47
5. Jeffrey Possinger - $2,406.20
6. Jim Dunn - $24,992.68
7. Kim Halvorson - $1,738.12
8. Luke Esser - $20,829.36
9. Mike Riley - $38,202.10
10. Pam Roach - $28,209.60
11. Randy Neatherlin - $7,662.01
12. Ron Boehme - $11,317.49
13. Toby Nixon - $21,627.36

NOTE: The following tables shows the adjusted contribution and expenditure totals for the above thirteen candidates. Future revisions to the 2006 Fact Book will adjust Legislative Candidates on each appropriate page of the book.

FOREWORD

The 2006 Election Financing Fact Book is the fifteenth in a series of comparable biennial reports produced since 1978 by the Washington State Public Disclosure Commission, pursuant to the Commission's authority in RCW 42.17.370(3) to publish reports and statistics concerning campaign finance so that the information may be fully disclosed to the public. This Fact Book also depicts the political finance activity of the seventh regular legislative election held following the implementation of Initiative 134.

Material in this book is based on campaign finance reports filed by candidates and political committees disclosing activity through December 31, 2006. For the most part, these reports have not been audited by PDC staff. Every effort has been made to assure that the data as well as the summary charts and graphs accurately reflect the filed information.

The total expenditures by legislative candidates, who reported spending money, are summarized as follows:

In 1994, 316 candidates spent $10,516,508
In 1996, 313 candidates spent $13,064,270
In 1998, 267 candidates spent $12,994,043
In 2000, 303 candidates spent $16,257,511
In 2002, 258 candidates spent $15,847,338
In 2004, 257 candidates spent $18,904,376
In 2006, 216 candidates spent $18,639,793

From 2004 to 2006 the average expenditure by major party general election legislative candidates with opposition increased approximately 8% from $85,592 to $94,747*. On average a winning general election legislative candidate in 1992 spent $68,692 compared with $109,440 in 2006.

The average expenditures for the Democratic and Republican general election candidates for the state legislature by election year are outlined below:

	Democrat Average	Republican Average
1994	$ 42,491	$41,936
1996	$ 49,290	$59,538
1998	$ 57,233	$68,802
2000	$ 71,895	$74,576
2002	$ 86,732	$69,917
2004	$ 82,549	$83,160
2006	$109,290	$72,715

For more details, see the section devoted to "The Legislature."

*The numbers of candidates, totals spent, and averages listed on this page reflect only candidates who chose the full reporting option and reported spending money.

This book primarily profiles statewide executive and legislative candidate campaigns. It includes a descending list of major contributors to these candidates. The reverse directory at the end of the book identifies the significant givers to state office campaigns, those individuals, businesses, unions, PACs and organizations that donated at least an aggregate of $1,000 to statewide executive office or legislative campaigns and were reported as contributors by no fewer than three different candidates.

Statewide Ballot Propositions

General Election, November 7, 2006

Initiative 920	This measure would repeal Washington's state laws imposing tax, currently dedicated for the education legacy trust fund, on transfers of estates of persons dying on or after the effective date of this measure.
Initiative 933	This measure would require compensation when government regulation damages the use or value of private property, would forbid regulations that prohibit existing legal uses of private property, and would provide exceptions or payments.
Initiative 937*	This measure would require certain electric utilities with 25,000 or more customers to meet certain targets for energy conservation and use of renewable energy resources, as defined, including energy credits, or pay penalties.
House Joint Resolution 4223 (Exemption from personal property tax)	This amendment would authorize the legislature to increase the personal property tax exemption for taxable personal property owned by each "head of a family" from three thousand ($3,000) to fifteen thousand ($15,000) dollars.

Electioneering Communications

Independent Expenditures and Electioneering Communications

Spending on campaign advertising, either through making independent expenditures or paying for electioneering communication, is an increasing method employed by businesses, unions, organizations and political committees to support (or oppose) a legislative or other state office candidate beyond the limited amount they may give directly to the campaign. Independent expenditures usually take the form of political advertising (e.g. yard signs, brochures mailed to voters, radio and television ads, etc.) and directly state the sponsor's support or opposition to the candidate. Electioneering communications, which are also referred to as "issue ads," inform the public about political issues germane to an election and may assail a candidate right before an election but does not directly urge a person to vote for or against the candidate.

Independent expenditures and electioneering communications may not, constitutionally, be subject to any monetary limit. The right to free speech means that individuals and entities may spend as much as they choose to advertise their support or oppose candidates, so long as those expenditures are made independently of candidates and their campaigns. However expenditures that are made in conjunction or in concert with a candidate or candidate's campaign are considered contributions to that candidate, which are subject to limits if are made to legislative and other state office candidates.

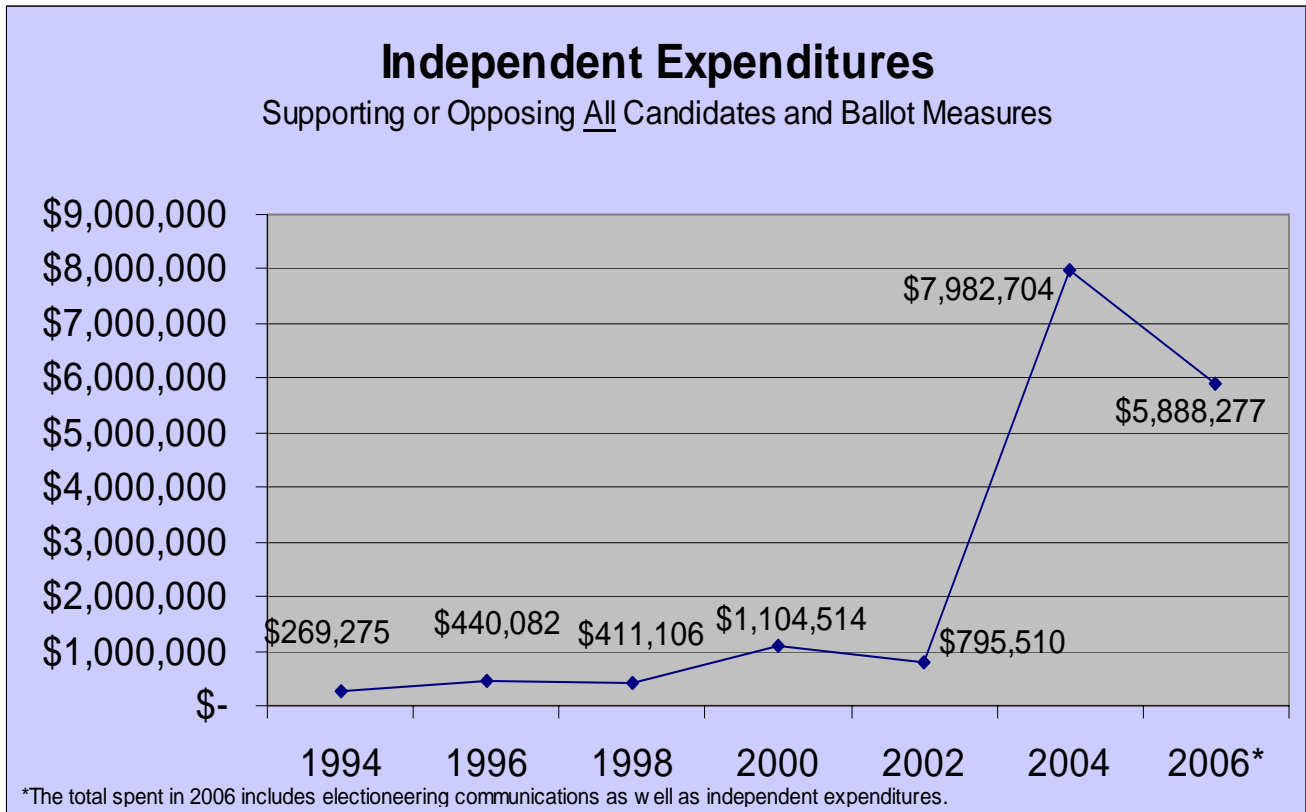

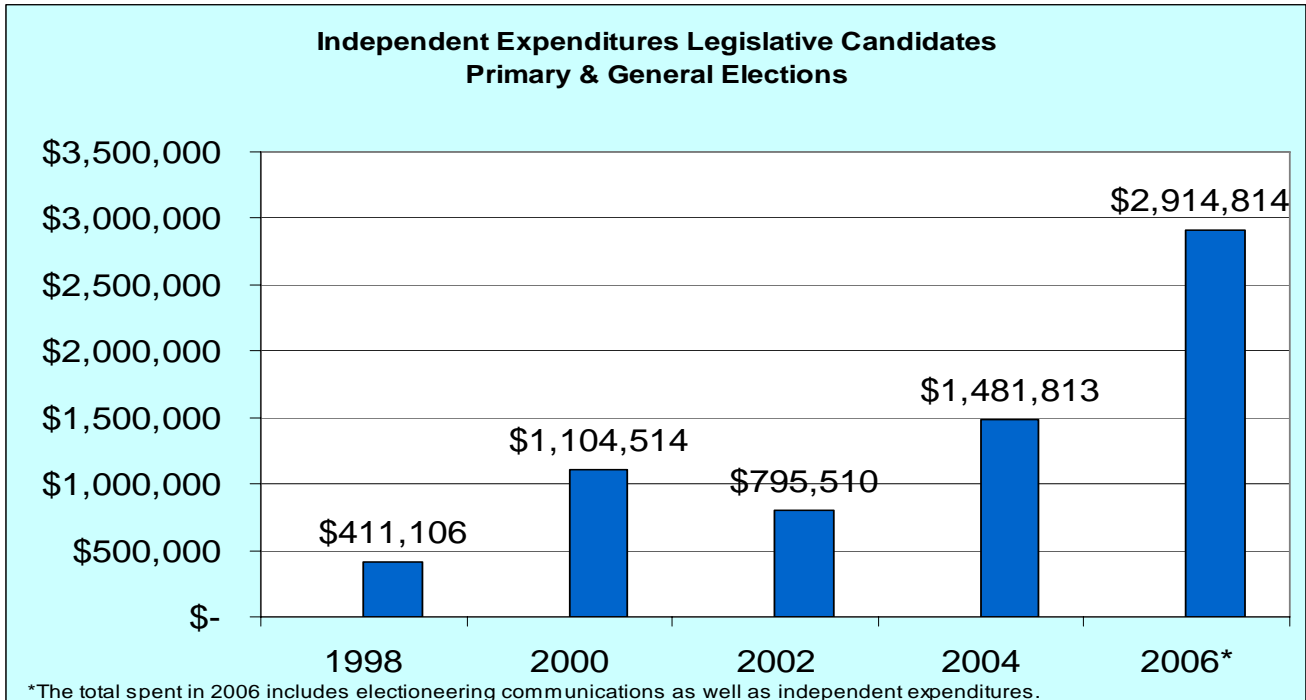

Any individual, business, union, organization or other person, including PACs and parties, that sponsors an electioneering communication must electronically file the C-6 report within 24 hours of, or the first working day after, the communication was first broadcast, mailed, erected, or published. A political committee who makes expenditures for electioneering communications reports the expenditures on a C-6 form as well as a C-4 or C- 5 report.

Independent expenditures and Electioneering Communications are reported to the Public Disclosure Commission (PDC) in one of two ways, depending on who is making the expenditure.

1. If a non-PAC makes an independent expenditure of at least $100, the sponsor must file the C-6 report. C-6 reports are filed by individuals, businesses, unions and other organizations that are not required to register and report as a political committee, a PAC. These non-PACs use their own funds to make their independent expenditures (that is, they do not undertake any special fund raising effort).
2. Political committees that are registered with the PDC report independent expenditures on Schedule A to the C-4 report, as part of their regular, periodic disclosure of expenditures. However, many PACs file both the PAC reports and the C-6 reports.

Detailed on the following pages is information on both independent expenditures and electioneering communications, which in 2006 totaled $5,888,277.
